NEW BUSINESS MILEAGE RATE

The IRS has announced that the standard mileage rate for business travel will be 56.5 cents per mile for 2013, an increase from 55.5 cents for 2012. Employers may use the standard mileage rate to pay for auto expenses incurred by employees under a reimbursement or expense allowance arrangement, provided that accountable plan requirements are satisfied. Reimbursement in excess of the standard rate creates taxable compensation subject to payroll taxes.

The standard mileage rate for charitable use of a vehicle remains at 14 cents per mile. The rate for use of a vehicle to obtain medical care or in connection with an employment-related move will be 24 cents per mile for 2013, up from 23 cents for 2012.

PAYROLL TAX CHANGES FOR 2013

With the New Year comes a new payroll tax year. Since many payroll tax rates and bases have changed once again, now is a good time to review the various payroll taxes for 2013. You may wish to keep this annual payroll tax summary on hand as a reference throughout the year.

FEDERAL WITHHOLDING

The Internal Revenue Service will soon issue new federal wage-bracket withholding tables and formulas for wages paid after December 31, 2012. These new withholding amounts will reflect any adjustments to the tax rate brackets, standard deductions and personal exemptions. Employees with changes in withholding status should also submit a new Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate, at this time.

MICHIGAN WITHHOLDING

The Michigan Department of Treasury withholding tables that were issued effective October 1, 2012 will remain in effect through December 31, 2013. The annual exemption amount remains at $3,950 and the rate remains at 4.25%.

SOCIAL SECURITY AND MEDICARE

For 2013, the employee tax rate for social security is scheduled to return to 6.2%, while the employer rate remains at 6.2%. The wage base for the social security tax has increased to $113,700. Employers must also withhold a new 0.9% additional Medicare tax on wages paid to any employee in excess of $200,000 per employee during the year.

	Social Security	Medicare
Employer's tax rate	6.2%	1.45%
Employee's tax rate	6.2%	1.45%
Wage base	$ 113,700	Unlimited
Maximum withholding per employee	$ 7,049	Unlimited
Employee's additional tax on wages over $200,000	N/A	0.9%

2013 also has an increase in the amount of earned income a recipient of Social Security can receive without losing benefits. The maximum amount for a beneficiary under full retirement age is $15,120, up from $14,640 in 2012. For workers who reach full retirement age during 2013, the maximum is $40,080 or $3,340 per month for the months prior to full retirement age. There is no earnings limit for beneficiaries once they reach full retirement age.

SELF EMPLOYMENT

The social security portion of the self employment tax is scheduled to return to 12.4% for 2013. Self employment earnings in excess of a threshold amount will also be subject to a new 0.9% additional Medicare tax ($200,000 for single returns, $250,000 for joint returns).

	Social Security	Medicare
Tax rate	12.4%	2.9%
Earning base	$ 113,700	Unlimited
Maximum tax per self-employed individual	$ 14,099	Unlimited
Additional tax on earnings over threshold	N/A	0.9%

MICHIGAN UNEMPLOYMENT

	2013	2012
Wage base	$ 9,500	$ 9,500

The Michigan unemployment rate is assigned annually to each employer during the first quarter of the year based on an experience-rated formula. Be sure to forward a copy of your Rate Determination notice to our office if we prepare your payroll tax returns.

FEDERAL UNEMPLOYMENT

For 2012, Michigan is no longer considered a credit reduction state for federal unemployment tax (FUTA) purposes because it has repaid money that was borrowed from the federal government to pay unemployment benefits. There is no 2012 credit reduction or penalty tax rate for Michigan wages.

	2013	2012
Net tax rate	0.6%	0.6%
Wage base	$ 7,000	$ 7,000

REPORTING AND DEPOSIT REMINDERS

FORM 1099

Payments of rents, dividends, interest and certain other payments made in the course of a trade or business must be reported to the recipient and the Internal Revenue Service on Form 1099. One type of payment that is often overlooked is fees of $600 or more paid to subcontractors, corporate directors, attorneys and other service providers who are not employees or corporations. Accounting fees of $600 or more paid to us in connection with your business must be reported since De Boer, Baumann & Company, P.L.C. is not a corporation. (Our Taxpayer Identification Number is 38-1968022.) If you do not have the necessary addresses and identification numbers to complete Form 1099, use Form W-9 to request this information from your vendor. Mail Form 1099 to each recipient by January 31, 2013 and to the Internal Revenue Service by February 28, 2013.

Attorneys' fees of $600 or more paid in the course of a trade or business continue to be reportable in box 7 of Form 1099-MISC. However, for payments in the course of a trade or business to an attorney where the portion that is for legal fees cannot be determined, the total amount paid to the attorney (gross proceeds) must be reported in box 14. Also, the exemption from reporting payments made to corporations does not apply to payments for legal services. Therefore, attorneys' fees or gross proceeds paid to attorneys must also be reported for payments to corporations that provide legal services.

Any person who must file a Form 1099-MISC with the Internal Revenue Service for services performed in Michigan must also file a copy with the Michigan Department of Treasury. These forms should be submitted along with the Annual Sales, Use and Withholding Taxes Annual Return Form 165.

PERSONAL USE OF COMPANY VEHICLES

The value of any personal use of company vehicles by employees is generally a taxable benefit that must be included on Form W-2 in boxes 1, 3, 5 and 16. It can either be included with regular cash compensation or shown on a separate Form W-2. Alternatively, employers may treat 100% of employees' auto use as personal use, entitling the individual to claim the business portion as an employee business deduction on Form 2106. Employers must also report the value of the benefit separately in box 14.

S-CORPORATIONS

The cost of fringe benefits such as health insurance premiums and disability insurance premiums paid for the benefit of a 2% S-Corporation shareholder and certain family members must be included in the employee's income as additional compensation. These amounts are considered wages, which must be reported on Form W-2 and are subject to withholding. These amounts are exempt from social security tax and unemployment taxes if the payments are made under a written plan for employees and their dependents.
